WINNERS ALWAYS IN DOUBT.

Only One American League Championship Was a Runaway.
The American League has never had but one professional pennant race. That was in 1905, when Boston won with a percentage of .659, the Athletics ranking second with .556—a difference of 103 points.
Chicago won the flag in 1906—the first year of the new league—with .607, Milwaukee being the runner-up with .568. In 1907—the season the second game, which was limited to seven innings by agreement—the Chicago team won 610 of its games, Boston following with 571.
In 1902 the Athletics finished first with .610, the Browns trailing with .574.
In 1903 Jimmy Collins' team was an easy winner by the figures already given, but in the following season Boston clinched the championship of the last game but one by defeating New York, the runner-up, their respectively records for the race being 617 and 609.

"Well," replied Shrubbs, "I have failed to learn where he has done any thing that would entitle him to consideration from a dozen runners. You can't find a man who is heard of outside of his home town. Boston, whom I think could dispose of Longboat," continued Shrubbs. "His name is Frank Kennedy. I admire his running very much."

Shrubbs is a great admirer of Bobby Kennedy of Hamilton, an athlete who competed in the indoor games in Buffalo last winter. The making of a great sprinter.

The definition of an amateur and a professional in England, according to Shrubbs, differs greatly from that in this country. "In England," he said, "a man is either a pro or an amateur. None of this on-the-fence business. You find no amateur running up a big expense account in preparing for a contest unless he has plenty of money himself and keeps close tab on the movements of an amateur."

IN THE FOOT-BALL WORLD

NEW YORK, September 29.—Although scuffling games had been played here and there, the real beginning of the playing season of football took place yesterday, when most of the Eastern college teams got under way. Harvard, Yale and Princeton were conspicuous absentees from the field of conflict, they being due to begin their schedules this week. The University of Pennsylvania, eleven got the ball rolling with a good sized score against the University of North Carolina team. Lafayette scored a respectable victory over Wyoming, while the Indians were held to a small total by Villanova. Brown made three touchdowns against her opponents, and Dartmouth, too, both keeping their goal lines inviolate. Williams and Wesleyan both won, the former having a close call with the Massachusetts Aggies. The leading prep schools, Andover and Exeter, were victorious. Most of the games were played on wet and slippery grids, which was not conducive to speed and smoothly worked evolutions. The results follow:

Pennsylvania, 39; North Carolina, 0. Brown, 16; New Hampshire, 0. Carlisle, 10; Villanova, 0. Lafayette, 22; Wyoming, 0. Williams, 6; Massachusetts Agricultural College, 4. Wesleyan, 17; Middlebury, 0. Dartmouth, 13; Norwich, 0. Bucknell, 6; Gettysburg, 0. Dickinson, 6; Western Maryland, 0. Lehigh, 20; Muhlenberg, 0. Nazareth, 1; Colgate, 0. Exeter, 5; Bates, 0. Andover, 11; Lynn A. A., 0. Bowdoin, 11; Port Moultrie, 0. Maine, 0; Hebron Academy, 0.

Philadelphia, Pa., September 29. James P. Loftus, a recent arrival in America from New Zealand, furnishes some interesting facts concerning the career of William Webb, the Australian carman, who recently defeated Charles Towns for the world's championship in single sculls. Loftus is a great personal friend and former clubmate of Webb. Both belonged to

GAME AT HOME ON SATURDAY

Interest in the week's sport centres chiefly in baseball and football, this being practically the close of one season and the beginning of the other, though the big league baseball teams do not quit before the close of next week, and football really began last week. Mixed with the "varsity" in the stars of the diamond, the "Salvo" to the warriors of the gridiron is heard. The small, hard sphere upon which thousands of eyes have been focussed for six months will be overshadowed by the large leather oval hurtling through the air.
"I have been in and about racing boats," said Loftus, in conclusion, "since my boyhood, and know every carman of note in the Antipodes, and I consider Webb to be the best man that ever sat in a shell since the days of Young Searle, whose death in the heyday of his aquatic fame is a source of regret to all lovers of this grand sport. I think it will take a better man than Durnan, the ambitious young Canadian sculler, to wrest the title from the young Maoriander."

NEARLY DEFEATED THOMPSON. Milwaukee Boxer Given Decision After Hard Fight.
MILWAUKEE, Wis., September 29.—Johnny Thompson, tried to pound Charles Neary into oblivion last night, but failed, Neary getting the decision after a hard-fought battle full of rough work, but fair fighting. Thompson went into the fight saying that for him to be defeated meant the loss of his reputation, while Neary realized that for him to be beaten this time, after a series of defeats such as he has suffered the past two years, would make him a has-been. At the outset, it seemed that Neary would reach oblivion all right, for Thompson had all the best of it, but Neary managed to play even in the second, and in the third round Thompson gasped with the rain of blows he poured into Neary's body. In the fourth Thompson was sent to his knees, but was back on his feet again quickly.

SPORTS OF THE WEEK

NEW YORK, September 29.—Interest in all other branches of sport this week will be overshadowed by that focused on the thrilling race between the leading teams of the American Baseball League for the pennant of 1907 and the honor of meeting the Chicago Club of the National League for the world's championship early next month.

Chicago is third in the race with a very narrow chance of catching the leaders, having a percentage of .585 and but one victory. To-morrow Philadelphia and Detroit will play a double header at Philadelphia, after which Detroit jumps to Washington for four games and thence to St. Louis for three. Only one game has been lost by Detroit in the Capital City, and Manager Jennings is hopeful that his high percentage of victories there will be maintained.

In St. Louis, however, things have not always been so good for the Tigers. After Detroit leaves, the Philadelphians will welcome the Clevelanders to their home grounds for four games, and then will go to Washington for three.
The football season may now be said to be well under way and although none of the big eleven are scheduled to meet for some time, this week's program is not without interest. There will be half a dozen or more games on Wednesday and probably all the eleven in training will meet opposing teams on the field next Saturday.

TEST OF NEW FUEL

Much Interest Attaches to the Trial of Deliquescent.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
JAMESTOWN EXPOSITION GROUNDS, Va., September 29.—Two carloads of briquettes, the new fuel, was shipped from the Fuel and Coal Testing plant here yesterday to the Norfolk navy-yard, and from there will be distributed to several naval ships to be tested.
The government desires to make comparative tests of the fuel qualities. The outcome of these tests will be watched with a good deal of interest by government experts.
The plant here is now turning out from five to six tons of this new fuel daily. Two large machines are used in the production.
A little later on tests will be made on United States torpedo-boats, using the same amount of briquettes and coal. The chief advantage of the briquettes in which shape briquettes are molded in the convective furnace, the economy in storage space, on account of their square shape. Another thing is that the briquettes throw off very little smoke; they burn evenly and slowly, and all of the fine carbon particles being entirely consumed. This gives briquettes what is claimed by experts to be a decided advantage over all other fuels designed for steaming purposes.
The Fuel and the Coal Testing plant here is one of the "show-places" of the fair.

'VARSITY VERY SORE OVER FOOTBALL TEAM

Students Can't See Why Team Did Not Defeat Davidson.

BIG SHAKE-UP WILL OCCUR

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., September 29.—The poor showing made by Virginia against the Davidson College team on Friday is still the talk of college, and it is safe to predict that there will be quite a shake-up in the team this week. At any rate, many of the substitutes, of which there are over fifty, will be given a trial, on the first and second teams.
Virginia has counted on defeating the North Carolinians by at least three touchdowns, although the visitors had gotten down to work two weeks in advance of the Orange and Blue squad. In the Davidson line-up there were only three veterans, and there was no reason why Virginia's score should not have been much larger. "Bob" Graham, head coach, has mapped out a week of hard work for the candidates. He will be assisted by his brother, Branch, Johnnie, and Dr. J. Beverly Toller, one of the best quarterbacks and all-around athletes ever turned out from this university. Toller will remain here for ten days or two weeks, after which he will go to Davidson to assist another Virginia alumnus, "Bob" Graham, in coaching the Presbyterians.
To Get Professional.
Under the new graduate coach system, a team is allowed the services of a professional coach for a period of two weeks. A correspondence is now being carried on with Sanford, the former Yale star who coached Virginia one season, and who last year returned to Yale to assist in getting the line-men in shape for the big games on the Blue schedule. It is generally expected that he will be chosen to round out the Virginia "varsity" toward the close of the season.
It will be some time before Virginia's real strength is known, as every one is so busy with the call for candidates, there has been much shifting in order to give all a chance to show their stuff. As yet, the best men selected.
In the Davidson contest, Honaker, the little quarter-back from Texas, was easily the star. He was in excellent form, and ran the team with excellent judgment. Captain Neff played his usual consistent game. He is not a spectacular player, but at all times he is doing good work. He has the line in good form, and is full of pluck. Barring his fumbling, the work of Crawford was fully up to standard. He is a very clever and brilliant dashes. Gloth, at center, played in mid-season form. Yancey, the Randolph-Macon boy, was not in the game, but was in uniform, and on the side line, he is starting from a sprained ankle, and it was thought best not to take any chances on his playing. He will be in shape for the next game.

SPORTING NOTES.
The Potomac Boat Club, of Washington, will build a $12,000 club-house, George H. Sutton, the world's billiard champion at the 182 style, has accepted the challenge of Jacob Schaefer to play for the tie, and the date of the match has been set for November 5th at Chicago.
Fullen, an Alaskan, is regarded by the coaches as the best man at West Point this year. He has been transferred from tackle to end, where heavy men are being placed, according to the Yale idea, which worked out successfully last season.

JAPAN DAY VERY ATTRACTIVE

Month of October to Be a Gay One at Jamestown.

JAPAN DAY VERY ATTRACTIVE

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
JAMESTOWN EXPOSITION GROUNDS, September 29.—The month of October will be known as "Japan Day" at the Jamestown Exposition. During that time no less than twenty-eight conventions will be held, in addition to the nineteen special days scheduled. Among the organizations which will meet are some of the largest and most influential in the United States, representing hundreds of thousands of citizens in all walks of life.
Eight States—Pennsylvania, Delaware, New York, Indiana, Connecticut, New Jersey, Michigan and Tennessee—will celebrate their special days. In the great majority of cases the respective Governors, together with their staffs, will attend, participating in the ceremonies.
The first week in the month will be Farmers' Week, during which agriculturists and horticulturists from all parts of the country will assemble to take part in the farmers' congresses, which will be held in the States' Exhibition Palace, where the leading States of the Union are represented by grain and fruit exhibits.
Beginning, likewise, on the first, the National Council of Women will hold convention, lasting until October 5th. In connection with the Tercentennial, thousands of Japs will be on the grounds, and the ceremonies will be strictly in keeping with the customs prevailing in their country.
Thirty thousand Japanese lanterns, imported directly from the Land of the Cherry Blossoms, will be given away to the exposition visitors. Some seventy thousand more will be hung in long lines and festoons around the grounds, and at 6 o'clock in the afternoon the Chojen Gloriosa—feast of lanterns—will be celebrated.
Another feature of this day will be the liberation of fifty Japanese, the first of a series of prizes, including the finder to a handsome prize. In addition every paid admission will carry a coupon. These coupons will amount to $50,000.
October 2d will be Wilkes-Barre (Pa.) Day. The day following will be Pennsylvania Day. The formal ceremonies of this occasion will take place in the Pennsylvania State Building at the exposition, and will be participated in by Governor Stuart, of Pennsylvania; Lieutenant-Governor Murphy, of Pennsylvania; Harry Tucker, of the exposition company, and Governor Swann, of Virginia. October 5th will be Greensburg (Pa.) Day.

Massachusetts Day.
The Grand Royal Arch Chapter of Masons will meet in concert from October 7th to October 9th, inclusive. From October 8th to October 9th the Fertilizer Manufacturers' Association will be in session. The 1907 congress of the National Funeral Directors' Association will be from October 8th to October 10th, inclusive.
October 9th will be Delaware Day. The exercises will be observed in the Delaware Building. Among those who will take part in them will be Governor Lea, of Delaware; James Pennock, of Delaware; and Governor Venable, of Virginia. This day will also be Anderson (Ind.) Day. The Virginia Daughters of the Confederacy will meet on October 9th.
From October 9th to October 12th, inclusive, the Association of Official Agricultural Chemists will be in session. New York Day will be October 10th, as will be Grafton (Vt.) Day. Thomas Dunne, president of the New York Jamestown Commission, will preside New York Day. Governor Hughes will be one of the orators. After the celebration the Governor and his official party will be tendered a reception luncheon by the exposition company. The National Congress of Mothers will also meet October 10th, to be in session one day.
October 11th will be Indiana Day and New Castle (Ind.) Day. From October 11th to October 17th, inclusive, the National Missionary Convention of the Disciples of Christ will be in session. From October 11th to October 13th, inclusive, the Sons of the American Revolution will be in congress. October 11th the Grand Commandery, Knights Templars of Virginia, will meet.
Montgomery (Ala.) Day will be celebrated October 14th. Two new conventions will begin on this day—that of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics, which will continue through October 17th, and that of the Brotherhood of America, which will last through the 23d.

The Indiana Day ceremonies—October 11th—will be participated in by Vice-President Fairbanks. For this day a musical of unusual interest has been arranged.
October 12th will be known as Brooklyn Day. The Military Surgeons of the United States will meet in convention Brooklyn Day through October 15th.

Connecticut Day has been scheduled for October 16th. This will be a day of great interest. Governor Woodruff, with his official party from the Nutmeg State, will take part in the ceremonies. The orator of the day will be Luther, president of Trinity College.
Manufacturers and Liberal Arts Day will likewise be celebrated on the 16th. Like the other strictly exposition days, a number of handsome prizes, including typewriters, sewing machines, etc., will be given away to those holding "lucky" coupons. The American Association of Traveling Passenger Agents will meet on October 16th. The association will be in session one day only.
October 17th will be New Jersey Day. Governor Stokes, of New Jersey, together with his staff, will be on hand, as will be C. C. Brown, president of the New Jersey Jamestown Commission. The program will include, among other features, a grand review of all the troops stationed on and near the Exposition grounds.
This same day will also be Knights of Malta Day. In addition, the Grand Camp of Confederate Veterans, which will meet on October 17th, will begin October 17th, lasting through the 25th. The Virginia Christian Endeavor will hold its annual convention at the exposition from October 17th to October 19th, inclusive.

Yorktown Day.
October 19th will be Yorktown Day. On this day the Jefferson Memorial Association will meet in the Maryland State Building. The Monday following will be Michigan Day. Governor Warner, of Michigan; United States Senator J. C. Burrows, and William A. Smith, orator of the day, will be in the evening a reception will be given in the Michigan Building. This day—October 21st—the American Railway Association will begin its convention, which will last three days.
The Jamestown Poultry Show, which will probably be one of the largest ever held in this country, will last ten days, beginning October 23d. The Agricultural Implement and Vehicle Manufacturers' Association will meet October 23d, closing October 24th.
October 23d will be New Orleans Day. From this day to the close of the week will be known as Phi Kappa Sigma Fraternity Week.
